

Having qualified from St. Thomas's Hospital and worked in junior surgical posts, Guy went to work in drug development with Eli Lilly. Following this he went to INSEAD in France to complete an MBA, and after that spent 11 years in Healthcare investment banking. The first 5 years were as a Healthcare stock analyst at Barclays de Zoete Wedd followed by 6 years as a Healthcare corporate financier with Robert Fleming and then JPMorgan. For the last 8 years he has been working as an entrepreneur bringing new medical innovations to market. This experience has included being CEO of Cancer Research Ventures Ltd. and Chairman of Cambridge Cognition Ltd. Separately he is a business angel with investments including, Intelligent Medical Implants GmbH and Smart Use Ltd.